Romspen provided financing to allow the borrower to acquire two contiguous parcels of land in the Fishtown neighbourhood of Philadelphia. The land is located on the Delaware River within a Federal Opportunity Zone that has seen significant development in the area due to an influx of young professionals and students moving into the city. One parcel is slated for a 237 unit multi-family midrise building and the second parcel has a three-storey warehouse with a historical designation that will be converted to office space.

Notes:

Results shown are for Romspen Mortgage Investment Fund (the "Fund"), an Ontario trust, and are best efforts estimates, subject to confirmation at quarter end. Calculations of compound returns are net of Fund fees and expenses, and assume monthly reinvestment of distributions.

Market index information was obtained from publicly-available sources and is included to illustrate relative market performance for the periods indicated and not as a standard of comparison. The FTSE/TMX-STBI Short Term Bond Index (STBI) is a market capitalized weighted index of a diversified range of federal, provincial, municipal, and corporate bonds with term to maturity of between one and five years; T-bills refers to the 1 year average yield of Canadian three month Treasury Bills and seeks to track the investment results of liquid securities; and the S&P/TSX Composite Total Return Index is a market-capitalization-weighted index of approximately 250 of the largest publicly-traded companies in Canada by market value. These are unmanaged, broadly based indices which differ in numerous respects from the anticipated portfolio composition of the Fund, do not reflect any management fees and assume reinvestment of income.
